RALLY NEWSLETTER

Quairading Caravan Park

3rd to 7th July 2025

---

Attendees: Peter & Diane Butler, Len & Helen Butler, Terry & Glenis Cahill, Brian Cotterell, Ben & Corrie Hille, John & Chris Nightingale, Alan & Sandra Phillips, Wendy Sofield, Rick & Mim Taylor, Bert & Elma Vreeken, Ron & Margaret Wilton.

Rally Report:

Thursday afternoon, we all convened at Quairading. After everyone had settled in, we took the opportunity to have a good chat with one another. At 4 o'clock, we commenced our happy hour, graciously opened by our President, Elma.

There was much to discuss, and after a while, we returned to our caravans.

At 7 PM, some of us gathered to engage in various games. Rick had organized a music quiz, which was triumphantly claimed by Mim. Subsequently, we enjoyed a game of LCR. Won by Corrie and then Diane.

Friday morning, we all gathered in the sunshine for a while, anticipating our leisurely stroll into town to the Maker's Keep for coffee, an outing organized by Elma. They had arranged a special offer for the Caravan Club.

Afterwards, some indulged in shopping and explored the Op Shop, before strolling back to the Caravan Park to reconvene for a chat in the sun once more.

Once back at the Caravan Park we relaxed in the sunshine.

After lunch, Rick had orchestrated a game of Finske, which we all thoroughly enjoyed, culminating in a hard-fought victory for Mim after an intense contest with Bert. Following that, we engaged in several rounds of disc bowls, pitting ladies against men, and, unsurprisingly, the men emerged as the overall champions.

We then retired to the campers kitchen for Happy Hour while Brian tended to a robust fire outside in the fire pit. A delightful time was had by all.

The 3 Wise Men. See no Evil, Hear no Evil, Speak no Evil

After dinner, some of the steadfast members gathered in the now-chilly campers' kitchen, where we participated in a uniquely engaging quiz orchestrated by Corrie. All answers were tied to personal life experiences, sparking lively conversations and allowing us to learn much about one another that we had not known before. One of the questions was, What is your Least Favourite Food? The response that incited the most controversy was Ben's aversion to Vegemite. He was informed in no uncertain terms that as such he was not a true Aussie.

Saturday morning featured a delightful bring-and-share coffee gathering, complete with an exquisite selection of delectable cakes. Mim also prepared some small crackers topped with Cheese and VEGEMITE specifically for Ben.

He was a good sport and sampled one, yet candidly expressed his lack of enjoyment. We indulged in engaging and stimulating conversations. Furthermore, the occasion marked Diane's birthday, during which we all joyfully serenaded her with "Happy Birthday." A splendid time was had by all.

Following lunch, around 1:30 PM, some of us enjoyed in a few rounds of Keezen.

As the afternoon progressed, the temperature began to drop around 4 PM. Some sought refuge in the campers kitchen, while others gravitated toward the warmth of the outdoor fire. We were pleasantly surprised by the arrival of a charming cat, affectionately named "Mr. Fox," which evoked fond memories for Peter and Diane of their own cat, Bencor.

Once again, we were treated to a magnificent sunset.

Subsequently, everyone set about preparing dinner, which consisted of a variety of soups accompanied by an assortment of delightful desserts.

After the meal concluded, the raffle was conducted by Sandra, with John Nightingale being the fortunate winner.

Once everything was tidied up, Brian had organized an engaging quiz night, divided into two sections containing approximately 50 questions in total; however, no one managed to answer them all correctly.

On Sunday morning, as the caravan park had a promotion offering four nights for the price of three. Some guests opted to return home, while others chose to extend their stay and relish additional time in their caravans.

For those who remained, we convened in the warm sunshine behind a building, sheltered from the wind, to enjoy morning tea and coffee along with further constructive conversation.

Mim apprised us that Barbara's surgery had transpired exceptionally well, and we extend our heartfelt wishes for her swift recovery.

Furthermore, to those unable to attend this rally, we look forward to seeing you at the next rally.
